SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD
BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

Missed the boat: The ardent Eastland fellow who was offered plenty of space to tell 'Why I am For Eastland'. A similar offer to an ardent Curtin fellow. Both missed the boat. I called Brother Landrum Tuesday asking for something about the Youth-led Revival. A young fellow came in Wednesday, saying some kid MIGHT get here Thursday.

You have to tote your poll tax receipts to the polls Tuesday.

We have so many ads this week that it is up to me and Mrs. Gillon to fill up the cracks in this issue, but we can do it.

Well, I have about 'made it' until noon, so I will have to go down to the house and feed Buckingham some ground-up mule.

At the cafe Saturday I was talking to a big fellow. I asked him about himself and he admitted he was from Litte Texas. I asked him if he was kin to the Lotts and he said I AM a Lott. I knew everybody in Little Texas was either a Lott or kin to the Lotts, but I never did ask him WHAT Lott he was.

And, by the way, I wil have to go down there to the Gold Coast pretty soon and try to buy a pint of good whiskey. It is to high here in Grenada.

Talking about the ultimo, I saw Jim Keeton fishing off one of those bridges out on old No. 8 Saturday. If Dr. Hill ever starts he will lay his Bible and scalpel down. If anyone asked me why I try hard to catch those stupid little bass that I never eat, I would have to reply that I just dont know.

Since Merchie Isenberg layed L. Friedman down, Friedman has been forced to take up with Sam Wade and Albert Cohen, quite a comedown. I think Fisherman Dattel plays both sides of the fence.

Sax and Hamp Weir are living in hopes that th elocal campaign wont be long starting. They say that ALL the candidates will drop in shortly. A few, they say, have already started. Barbers have to eat, you know. When they get 'in', Sax says, they forget where the ground hog den is located.

Blanton Duncan, Jr., looking well and handsome, is home for a visit from the State of Washington University where he is seeking a degree.

I did not have room in the long-winded piece about the Branscomes recently to say that Braxter Irby was the brick mason who did the brick work on the handsome Branscome home, nor did I say that Braxter married one of the Branscomes.

Howard Gee, one of the many friends who visit Keene Huffington and try to keep him happy, paid his dues the other day.

Read this you folks who are waiting for cotton to open: Mabel just went thru West Texas and reports that gins are in full operation, even by night, there.

H. T. Salter of Duck Hill must have read that big ad about subscriptions because he mailed in his dues last week.

I agree with Fred Sullens that Martin should let Bilbo stay buried and not try to dig him up and parade him around again. Bilbo is definitely dead, even if not forgotten.

Dr. L. L. Rayford has just returned from a meeting of the National Medical Association in Washington. He said about 2,000 doctors from all over the nation were there. While in Washington he looked in on his son, Dr. L. L. Rayford, Jr., who is taking a special course in surgery at the Freeman Hospital in Washington. Dr. Rayford, a Negro, and family have come a long ways since the 'surrender'. He is not of the minority class of Negroes who try to get too far, too fast. I imagine, if he were asked, he would say that, so far as he and his are concerned, they are doing very well indeed.

Charter member Jack Sanderson paid up Sunday. Jack is fixing to go down 'home' to the vets hospital in Jackson. I have given that institution so much good publicity that they ought to give me a commission on all their new 'business' from this area. Seriously, they do treat patients fine down there, as they should do, and, in every respect, it is a good place to be when you are sick.

I finished up eight full days (or rather, afternoons) fishing up about John Weir's old place, Saturday.

Cousin Junius Townes, a charter member, paid his dues Sunday but he wont know anything about it until he looks into his cancelled checks. You see, I write my own check on him, sign his name by me. A lot of folks would revel in such a privilege.

Cap Jones, Negro janitor at the court house, is ill with a heart attack at the hospital. Cap is a good man, well liked by the officials as well as by the general public, both white and black. Hope he will be out soon because it wont be long until his two rows of cotton in the court house yard will need picking. Our former man, Willie, is helping replace Cap. You see, it takes TWO men to replace Cap.

Since Mabel has been away, I have been breaking my fast with Dot Timmons at the Barwin Hotel Coffee Shop.

From what their friends say of them Abe and Merchie Isenberg are sorry, sorry fishermen.

I saw E. L. Fite bringing in about 20 dozen eggs to sell the other day. I was intrigued whe the said he could tell, without candeling, which were two-yolk eggs.

Mrs. E. L. Fite must trust her husband mighty well. Few wimmen will trust their husbands to sell eggs. That is the untimo in trust.

Lloyd Taylor used to get the GCW, but got cut off somewhere in the shuffle, but he has returned to the list. Lloyd now works part time for Collins, the Highway 8 roach and minnow king. Lloyd gives full count on minnows. He studied the same arithmetic book that customers did. 12 is a dozen with him. Fisherman Davies was telling us of one fellow who counted minnows this way: 1, 3, 7, 8, 9, 14, 17, 25.

Grandpaw Coleman contrary to what I had last week, did not have TWO Simmons grandboys with him. Sam aint got but 1 boy, and I was not trying to get out any scandal on Sam.

Dear Jack Scott, Chicago: you had better get back here and look after your personal business.

I heard on radio or television that a bill had been introduced in Congress had been introduced to make it a felony to belong to the Democratic Party.

Mesdames Frank Gerard and Geo. Granberry, Sr. and Miss Mary Thomas visited briefly in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Thomas in Birmingham over the week end.

Rice Lawrence dropped into the Barwin one night last week from wherever he had been and dropped out the next day for wherever he was going.

John Pressgrove who has become Tom Kelchin's left hand and right hand up to the elbow, was back 'home' in Grenada Thursday, when we were getting the paper out, so we did not get to find out much from him, though he always knows a heap.

Herman Massey who used to get the GCW at Oxberry must read it anyway because he has taken up the famous GCW remedy for arthritis and says cod liver oil and orange juice help him a head.

J. Fred has TWO important jobs: working at the GCW and mowing his mama's yard. When he gets tired here he reports that he has to mow his mama's yard; when he wants to go fishing, he tells his mama he has work to do at the GCW. That's a tidy arrangement, aint it?

This is just Sunday 2:30 p. m. Butch Darras has already told me twice not to forget to put in the paper about him beating his esteemed father, fishing. As a matter of fact, Butch wanted a copy of the paper Sunday.

For Sale: 1-row IHC Binder. See Fred Daly, city. 9-16c

I got a visual treat the other day. I saw B. Feltus. B. is as cute as a cage full of monkeys.

I dont see how Bud Chapuis ever gets any farming done. It looks like he fools around with R. C. Purdie all the time.

Just because I have got Mabel to California and back (I hope, soon), dont stop paying YOUR dues.

Mrs. Lelia Bailey of Black Earth, Wis. has been a guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey this week.

Most of my troubles while Mabel is away would vanish if Buckingham would eat RAW fish. Since he insists on coked fish, and I do not cook, I have to feed him on ground mule meat from these ten-cent cans. J. Fred's mama insists that Fred or one of the gals debone fish for her fine cat, so my troubles, after all, are merely minor troubles. She must have an up-town cat.

I have really forgotten whether they call Shorty Jones' fine establishment in Carroll County, the Yellow Dog or the Red Dog. Will have to find out from Albert Cohen or J. Fred. I know it is some kind of dog.

I have heard of folks fixing to run for supervisor in every beat but Beat 3. It looks like folks there know a good bet when they have it. Albert Clark, that is.

Albert Clark talked the government out of that grand Grayspert bridge, also that grand road from the bridge to the Yalobusha County line. I rode over it the other day and did not see a living soul.

Three fine boys: two of Ed Neelly's and one of Jimmie Inman's, visited the GCW office Monday morning seeking employment. I told them to get with our main paper-catcher, J. Carmen, and one of them could be sub-paper-catcher in J. Carmen's place sometime.

'Lying Davies', as we call him, told the truth about his Sunday's piscatorial adventures. He admitted that, though he tried awful hard, both Enid and Sharkey Bayou, he did not catch 'narrie' fish. All he had were good excuses.

As far as I am concerned, I aint going back to Enid until I hear that the Hambys have been there and caught fish. At present, you could not hire a Hamby to go there.

Sunday I saw old man Lewis Dubard, his wife and daughter Marion eating dinner with Brother Sutphin, or he with them. They have been in a dry spot at Dubard, and maybe they are getting up closer to the preacher, so they can inspire some rian.

Wonder how old Tom Gum is getting along?

I have 'on my list' Mr. and Mrs. McClusky to give a mess of fish to, but I aint going to dress 'em.

The vevry newest entry on the cash book is the name of Charter Member and neighbor, Earl Horton. If it were not for the Hortons, the GCW would long since have gone bust.

One good thing about such folks as the Hortons and Dubards is that they multiply. First thing we realize, ANOTHER Horton or Dubard pops up wanting the GCW.

Bob Carpenter, a charter member, died, but here comes his woidw, now living in Schwertz, Texas, wanting to get on the list. OK, Mrs. Carpenter, we will give you Bob's place on the mailing list, but not his place in our kind memories.

GRENADA COUNTY "FARM OF THE [illegible]

Number 18 In A Series Of 52

—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge of course, will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

Subscriber Jarman of Gulfport here visiting their Lamon kin in Grenada over the week end. Mr. Jarman remembers when I used to tell them: Better do a little something for the Negro kids before we are MADE to do a heap. By the way, Wallace Lamon's favorite grandson, Lamon Hartsell of Mobile, visited grandpaw in recent weeks. That kid is one of our valued subscribers.

When I was younger I would bust out with a solution to EVERY problem and would publish it knowingly. But I will have to admit that I have no solution but patience to this segregation problem.

Tom and Mary Meek are in Waynesville, N. C. cooling off. Aint it grand to be rich.

J. Fred has been feeding Andrew enlight bass to that flond-headed gal and I dont know, but think J. Fred made like he catchit them.

All is fish that comes to our net. While I expect to vote for Jim Eastland, I glory in paid ads from Gov. [illegible]. For an unbiased, [illegible] man I know, [illegible] gone.

Jeff Martin got 4[illegible] for the [illegible] which weighed [illegible].

After Tuesday the 24th when Dick Tuttle starts running for governor I may vote for him. Many sharp folks think the old shovelnoll politician put Garfin into the senatorial race to drown him while he was up.

I am not voudching for this tale. Many things told are various ons. But here's the tale: John Bradley and Sam Simmons lost a boat out on the Carroll County Gold Coast. As a matter of fact, I did not even know these estimable gentlemen ever went to the coast.

WSCS CIRCLES TO MEET

Circle one of the WSCS will meet at 3:30 Monday with Mrs. Albert Henderson. No 3 with Mrs. Winifred McCuiston. Other circles have completed their work and will not meet Monday.

An executive meeting will be held in Fellowship Hall at the church Monday, August 23 at 9 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lovelace and children of Linden, Texas spent the week last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Scott. They left Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Noel returned Tuesday from a delightful weeks visit with her niece Mrs. William Daily and Mr. Daily in their home near Indianola.

Mrs. Stuckey from Lepanto, Ark. arrived Tuesday for a visit with Mrs. C. Heath. Mrs. Heath entertained at a party at the Country Club on Thursday in her honor.

William Upshaw of Ponca City, Okla. visited his niece Mrs. Sel Jones recently.

I think a heap of Dr. Avent and it is a pity that he and I are on opposite sides in this senatorial race. If Doc was running, it would be a different matter with me. I assure everybody.

Maybe Doc and I will be together after the 24th, when Carroll starts running for Governor.

It's getting so hard to give away fish that one has to dress 'em before fish-eaters will accept fish.

Vote "X" Eastland on August 24th

A Personal Word from Senator Jim Eastland

Many important problems now face our State and Nation. As one of your Senators since 1942, I seek re-election on the sole basis of qualifications and experience. I invite each voter of Mississippi to study carefully both my record in the Senate and the issues in this campaign. You have a lot at stake. Regardless of personalities, I want you to vote for the man you think best qualified to represent Mississippi with the honor and distinction she deserves. Whatever your verdict, I will be content.

SEGREGATION

While many Southern leaders have expressed themselves as favoring continued segregation, I have originated a workable plan to make it stick. Soon after the U. S. Supreme Court decision declaring segregation unconstitutional, I immediately proposed a constitutional amendment to restore authority over education, health, morals, and marriage to the respective states. I have also proposed the organization of a national association to promote passage of the amendment. If re-elected to the U. S. Senate, I will continue wholeheartedly my efforts for the passage of the Eastland amendment to retain segregation.

VETERANS LEGISLATION

As a loyal and long-time friend of veterans, I am proud to be one of the authors of the GI Bill of Rights, which granted untold benefits to veterans for education, agricultural training, on—the—job training, and farm and home purchases. I was also sole author in the Senate of the Soldiers Vote Bill in 1943, to permit soldiers to vote absentee ballots in all elections. Previously, soldiers could vote only in Presidential elections by absentee ballots. During my 12 years in the Senate, I have voted to liberalize pensions of all veterans and have worked closely with the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other veterans organizations in the fight against Communism.

FARM ACHIEVEMENTS

Because I was in a position on the Senate Agriculture Committee to get things done, Grenada County's cotton acreage allotment for 1954 was increased by more than 25 percent — from 12,000 to almost 16,000 acres. I got a special amendment inserted in the ACREAGE BILL TO LET GRENADA COUNTY FARMERS HAVE THE COTTON Allotment in the Grenada Reservoir — acreage that otherwise could not have been claimed. As a result of my efforts Grenada County has over 3100 additional acres of Cotton. I know the needs of the farmers of Mississippi because I am a farmer myself. As your chief spokesman on the Agriculture Committee I shall continue to work for a farm program that will help build a more prosperous agricultural economy in our State.

OLD AGE BENEFITS

In 1943, soon after becoming your Senator, I introduced a bill to have the Federal Government bear the entire cost of a program to provide old age benefits. Although this bill did not pass, I sat in on the compromise under which it was agreed that the Federal Government should put up 80 per cent of the funds, and the states the other 20 percent. Needy old people of Mississippi had their payments reduced in July of this year, but it was not because of Federal funds. The decrease was caused by the State Legislature which was unable to provide enough money to continue paying the same amount. I was co-author of the bill that is now the law, which will permit ministers to be covered by Social Security, on a voluntary basis.

TVA AND REA

I have always been a champion of TVA and REA and was one of the Senators who filibusted against President Eisenhower's bill to replace TVA with private power in the Atomic Energy Program. When the bill came up for consideration, I flew to Washington to participate in the fight. I filibustered on what is known as the graveyard shift — from midnight to dawn — and the filibuster was so effective it achieved concessions from the administration. If re-elected as your Senator, I will do everything possible to continue to bring low—cost electricity to the people of Mississippi.

IRRIGATION

The recent passage of the Eastland—Aiken Irrigation Bill will make it possible for Mississippi farmers and cattlemen to drill wells, construct ponds and buy aluminum pipe with sprinkler systems without paying out any money. The Government will finance the entire installation just as they have been doing out West. The farmer will have 20 years to repay the loan at 3 per cent interest. No mortgages are taken on the land. The loan will be paid for out of increased production.

SENIORITY AND EXPERIENCE

In the Senate, seniority and experience count for everything. I am 14th now among 96 Senators. This seniority is an investment by Mississippi. It is high because you honored me by electing me Senator when I was only 37 years old. I hold memberships on the vital agricultural and judiciary committees. These key positions will enable me to be of even greater service to Mississippi in the future. In my judgment, a record of achievement is more important than a platform of high-sounding promises.

Jim Elliott of Holcomb, who made about the best supervisor Beat Five ever had, and a charter member of the GCW family, dropped in sady and paid off.

I am fearful that some of our impetuous Negro citizens are trying to go too far, too fast with this segregation business.

Folks from as far away as Woodland, Chickasaw County, are coming in to Grenada Lake to fish. I fished on the same point with two Negroes, man and wife, who had laid by their crops in that county. I gave them what fish I had.

This is Saturday. I am here in the office alone, taking in gossip and subscription money. J. Fred and Andrew, have gone to Sardis Lake.

Seeing how the Negro fishermen are catching these grinnel fish from the river, I wonder if the art of making preserves from grinnel, used by colored Joe Lott at Oxberry, has been lost to posterity.

Joe also used to make jam out of grinnel.

A Beat 5 fellow and I were counting up how many candidates would be for Sheriff. We got to eight, then got out of soap.

This Joe Lott I was referring to was not the famous Bishop of Little Texas, but a colored fellow of the same name. Both are now dead.

See from the Star paper that Sonny Hubbard, one of our subscribers at the University of Indiana, had a birthday recently. Sonny seems to get along with tohes gdyankees up there OK.

Guy Smart's daughter who is joint secretary for William Gartin Semmes and for William Eastland Winter, will have to keep mum about how she votes.

IDEAS FOR BROILING

Can you be accused of neglecting your broiler? Many of us, I'm afraid, fail to prepare broiler meals as often as we might. Broiled foods have an appetizing appearance. Of course, their speed in preparation and their convenience are two more points in their favor. And, of course, you broi electrically for the best results.

To get an idea of the extent to which we can use the broiler let's consider the meats that may be prepared by this method. First of all, of course, there are the tender beef steaks . . . porterhouses, sirloin, club, rib, filet mignon. Other cuts include high quality top round steak, ground beef patties, lamb patties, lamb rib, loin and shoulder chops, sliced ham, bacon, Canadian-style bacon, sweetbreads, veal or lamb liver and kidney and meat en brochette. Because veal is a young animal and lacks sufficient fat it is not broiled. Fresh pork requires thorough cooking to bring out its full flavor, therefore pork chops, steaks and patties are never broiled but are cooked until they will be tender and juicy by the time they are cooked well done.

Here's a broiler combination that makes a nice company dish . . . lamb chops with banana chunks and pineapple rings. Preparation is quite simple. Merely cook at a moderate temperature and time the process. A moderate temperature insures the meat being cooked inside by the time it is well browned on the surface. To obtain a moderate temperature, regulate the distance of the meat from the heat. If the chops are one inch thick, place on the broiler rack two inches from the heat . . . or according to directions with your range for a moderate temperature. When meat is browned, season, turn and arrange the pineapple rings and banana chunks on the rack with the meat. Brush them with melted butter or margarine. Let the chops finish cooking, season and arrange the fruit on a platter with the meat. Chops cut one inch thick require a total of twelve to fifteen minutes cooking time.

Deviled beef patties with tomatoes makes one more flavorful combination. To prepare the patties, season one pound of ground beef with one teaspoon prepared mustard, one teaspoon of horseradish, one-fourth teaspoon finely minced garlic, one teaspoon salt, and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Broil the patties on one side, then when you turn them add tomato halves sprinkled with grated cheese. Serve this combination with cottage fried potatoes, a tossed salad and hard rolls.

A ham slice may be cleverly accompanied with sweet potatoes. Cut cooked sweet potatoes . . . canned may be used . . . in one-inch slices. Broil a one-inch ham slice for eight to ten minutes, then turn, add the potatoes . . . brushed with melted butter or margarine. Cook for an additional eight to ten minutes. Turn the potatoes so they will be evenly broiled.

The recipe book with your electric range will give you additional recipes and menu suggestions for broiling.

"Farm of the Week" – Last Week

—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada.

Nobody has yet come in to get the free picture, but I found out a good deal of this property, on which the two comfortable homes stand.

The whole property, half with one house and half with the other once belonged to the late Marcellus Dubard, brother of William Dubard, owner of the land to the left, or west. It was part of the Thomas old lands. At one time the Thomas family owned nearly everything in that part of Grenada County.

Actually the homes are located on Highway 7 and 8, at Bew Springs, five miles west of Grenada.

Mr. Bob McCormick, the eldest of a big bunch of sons of the late Billy McCormick, all of whom were forced out of the McCormick settlement near Kirkman in Beat Three when the government acquired the land for Grenada Lake, owns the home to the reader's left and the land attached thereto. This home was built for Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Dubard, Sr. and, at their death, this part of the land went to Marcellus Dubard, Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams who sold it to Mr. McCormick who, with his family, now lives there practicing general farming.

The part of the property to the reader's right was built for the late Bruce Dubard. When he died some time ago, the property was inherited by his widow, Mrs. Willie May Dubard, now of Memphis and is now leased by Red Morhead who practices general farming there.

Light's Diamond Jubilee To Be Commemorated By Electric Industry

This year more than 200 investor-owned, business-managed electric light and power companies are betting on the future growth and prosperity of America with $3 billion to be spent during 1954 for expansion of the industry.

Spokesmen for America's electric industry say this $3 billion investment is significant since this is the year of Light's Diamond Jubilee. While planning for the future, the spokesmen say, this is a good time to review the past.

Light's Diamond Jubilee marks the 75th anniversary of Thomas Edison's invention of the first practical incandescent lamp and development of the first electric system by Edison. One purpose of the Jubilee celebration currently being planned will be to explain to the American people how the electric industry has brought comfort to millions, aided in America's industrial might and helped bring the highest standard of living in the world to this country.

Climax to the Jubilee will be October 21, anniversary date of Edison's invention. By this time though the electric industry expects that all Americans will know the story of Edison and his influence on the country's development.

In Mississippi plans are already being completed for the Jubilee. Mississippi Power & Light Company officials in cooperation with some 500 appliance dealers have announced that various committees are at work on plans for the celebration. One highlight of this company's activities will be the dedication of its new 210,000 kilowatt Delta Steam Electric Station near Cleveland.

Company officials estimate that approximately 5,000 people will be on hand for this event, pointing out that because of its unusual modern design this station was recently voted one of the seven wonders of the Mid-South.

Light's Diamond Jubilee though won't be a celebration without reason. While becoming the nation's largest taxpayer the electric industry has consistently reduced rates during the past 20 years. Typical is Mississippi Power & Light Company, now the state's largest taxpayer, having paid over $5,000,000 in federal, state and local taxes during 1953 while the rate per kilowatthour paid by the average residential customer decreased 24.7 percent within the past 10 years.

The industry also tells with justifiable pride that the American people enjoy the benefits of three-fourths of all the electric appliances in the world. At the same time the company's annual reports reflect sound and carefully considered progress toward meeting the increasing demand for its product which has been called "the cornerstone of modern civilization."

THEN, VALLEY GAS ENGINEERS FOUND WE COULD PUMP SOME GAS BACK IN THE GROUND ON WARM DAYS, AND STORE IT HERE.
JUST LIKE IN A TANK THAT WAS ALREADY UNDER THE GROUND.
THAT'S RIGHT! THEN ON COLD DAYS, WHEN HOMES, STORES AND FACTORIES NEED MORE GAS IN A HURRY, WE'D HAVE IT... RIGHT HERE.

GRENADA BAR PLEDGES TO SUPPORT HERBERT HOLMES

RESOLUTION OF GRENADA BAR

Among the departments of our government, in some respects the judiciary is the most important. In that department the office of Chancellor is greatly outstanding. It involves not only the administration of the law but the application of those principles of equitable justice which are often needed in the problems before the court. It requires a man who understands and is able to declare the law; one who is honest, courageous and having an understanding heart; a man of wisdom and a kindly spirit intermixed with a character not only rightous and upright but independent and with out fear. It requires, too, one who is worthy of his outstanding responsibility to those whom he is the constitutional guardian and regarding who there can be no question of his devotion to this duty.

Regarding this office the Bar recognizes its own responsibility. Acting thereunder this Bar, not selfishly but discharging what it takes to be its duty, humbly and with deference pledges its support and commends to its people a man who measures up to the requirements of the office our distinguished Chancellor Herbert Holmes for re-election to the office.

Growing by Giving

Lesson for August 22, 1954

A GREAT deal of "giving" is not giving at all. When two relatives give each other Christmas presents, it is more rightly called an exchange than giving. When the Red Cross or other community drives come along and the householder turns in his few dollars just so he will be counted, just to keep from being thought a tight-wad, that is not giving, it is a form of tax. When some higher court (say a Presbytery) or a Board or a Bishop lays upon a congregation an assessment, or in some church campaign for funds a certain amount is "allotted" to a congregation or an individual member, that still is not giving, but more like a tax. You can rightly call it "giving" only when it is freely done, out of sheer good-will, without desire of return.

Dr. Foreman

Investing Personality

When a church invites you to give to one of the causes it supports, it is doing a great deal more, something quite different, than just asking you to shell out some cash. You are being invited to share and invest your personality, no less. There is a hymn which says, "If you cannot cross the ocean and the heathen lands explore, You may find the heathen nearer, you may find them at your door." Well, you cannot cross the ocean, perhaps. You may be much too old to learn Korean or Portuguese. But your money can cross for you. Your money, given to "missions," represents your own work, your own energy and earning-power, put into portable form. In that portable form it becomes part (for instance) of the salary of a young man and his wife who are missionaries in Korea or some other country. They may be evangelistic missionaries, preaching sermons you could never preach. They may be medical missionaries, performing operations you could never do. Whatever they are, they are where they are, doing what they do, because of the gifts you and others have given through the church. Your personality, without those gifts, would be tied down to your little Main Street; your personality through those gifts goes out to the far corners of the world.

Adding to Yourself

In true giving, you not only invest your personality but your personality itself grows. Paul in writing to the Corinthian Christians whom he knew so well, gives them a high rating for their faith, for their ability to express their faith in words, for knowledge, enthusiasm and love for him. Now you would think that persons who had all those good qualities so that even an apostle, not too easily pleased, was delighted with them, would need no further improvement, they were good enough. But Paul thinks of one thing more. "Could you not add generosity to your virtues?" he asks. (Phillips translation.) The minute you read that you can see the point. A person without generosity is not so big a person as the same person with generosity added. Long after a man's body has ceased to grow, his soul can grow by his increase in the "grace of giving."

The Stingy Are Stunted

On the other hand, the stingy are stunted. They are stunted because their eyesight is poor,— the eyesight of their mind, that is. All they can see is themselves, maybe their families. But they cannot see the needs of other people at all; on the contrary they never see people as they are, but only as sources of income for themselves. They are stunted because they tend to shrink more and more into themselves. Stinginess if left alone will cover up a man's soul as with a thick layer of cobwebs till the soul can scarcely breathe. The stingy man ends by being stingy even with himself. He becomes a miser. Money comes to be the only thing in the world for him. He began by not feeling the needs of others, he ends by not feeling even his own. He will go without much that he needs because even spending money (to say nothing of giving) hurts him to the bone. He is stunted because he finally loses resemblance to a regular human being and becomes no more than a slightly animated piggy-bank. You can put money into him but you can't shake it out. You would hardly guess that this poor shriveled soul had once been made in the image of God.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

William Gale Herbert, formerly of Little Teas, has become J. Carmen's understudy in catching papers in the GCW office.

One learns a lot if he keeps his ears open, and his mouth shut. I knew that Mrs. F. B. Hill, our Fresno (Calif.) subscriber was Warren Hallman's daughter, but did not know that Eugene (Baby Bud) Staten married the other Hallman daughter and that both families are together in California, nor did I know that Warren and wife visited their children last year. Mr. Hill, I learned is with the Murray Gin Company.

Until just a short time ago, as times go, nobody ever dreamed that cotton would be produced in California, but, at present, California produces more cotton than any other state. Folks have eternally moved West, and so has cotton. Once Georgia was the biggest producer, then Mississippi, then Arkansas, then Texas, and, now, California wears the champion's belt.

While Mabel has been away, Granddaughter Andrea Whitaker has been careing for Mabel's Stupid Canary, while I have been catching those stupid little bass.

Morris Mabry says when he catches up with the installment-bought ice box and the electric light bills, he is going to come back to our mailing list. He was raised in Little Texas and burned coal oil or pine knots, while he used a cool spring for refrigerating purposes. This modern life has just about ruined country newspapers.

I see Lester Parham coming, better get out a nickle for that hungry meter.
